Email/phone messages: students can expect a response within 24 hrs. M-F and within 72 hrs. on weekends. My preferred way of communicating with students is using email. I check my UF email frequently every day and on the weekends. If I plan to be out of the office or out of email communication, I will email the class and post an announcement on the class website.

Catalog description

Elementary organic and biochemistry for students in agricultural technical curricula. This is a terminal courser and not part of any sequence.

Course Overview

This course is intended for students who have taken and understand the principles of general chemistry. This is a terminal course and not part of any sequence of courses in the Department of Chemistry. This course is designed to introduce elementary organic chemistry and biochemistry to students in the agricultural curricula.

Acceptable Course Participation

This is an online course with weekly lectures and assignments. The week begins on Monday and ends on Sunday. Students are expected to login to the course website at least once a week (see schedule) to watch the narrated lectures and complete the assignments (see course goals and assignments & assessment).

Each week also offers OPTIONAL MATERIALS – reading assignments, instructor created videos, and YouTube videos to help understand the weeks topic.

All course materials will be available via the Canvas course website.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies.

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and can complete evaluations through the email, they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

Course Goals and Assignments

The objective of this course is to provide sufficient background in organic and biological chemistry to make subsequent courses in plant, animal, or environmental science more meaningful.

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Retrieve general chemistry terms related to organic and biochemical compounds and reactions
2. Identify and describe relevant organic and biochemical compounds
3. Identify and describe relevant organic and biochemical reactions
4. Assess the importance of organic and biochemical compounds in plants, animals, and the environment
5. Appraise practical and real-world examples of organic and biochemistry in daily life

December 11, 2024

Each week, students will be responsible for watching the narrated presentation, completing a discussion post, and completing a quiz or assignment (see late assignment policy).

Discussion posts: Discussion posts must be completed by Wednesday at 5 pm ET. Discussion posts should be well written and address the issue or question being discussed. All posts should be made within in the week assigned. Discussions will be graded on the quality and timeliness of the response (see discussion grading rubric below). Each student is expected to comment on three classmates' posts. Discussion posts will be accepted up to four days after the due date but will be marked down 2 points. They are worth 10 points.

Points
10	Addressed and responded to the original question and increased understanding of the topic; responding to 3 posts; advanced the conversation
9	Addressed and responded to the original question and increased understanding but only commented on 2 additional posts
8	Addressed and responded to the original question and increased understanding but only responded to 1 post
7	Addressed question BUT DID NOT respond to any additional posts

Quiz: Each quiz will cover the material discussed that week in the lecture. They are worth 25 points.

Critical Thinking Assignment: Each assignment will ask the student to apply what was covered in the preceding lectures (the lectures in that module) to solve a problem. The critical thinking comes at the end of each module. They are worth 25 points.

Your answer will be graded on the following criteria. You are welcome to work with your classmates on this assignment BUT each student must submit their own -original answer. No cut and paste and no plagiarism.

Criteria
Quality of presentation (5 pts)	Student took time to correct for spelling, punctuation, and proper citation of sources

December 11, 2024

Answer the question (10 pts)	Student answered the question(s) and used multiple sources to support their answer
Connection to module (10 pts)	Student connected the question(s) and answers to the topics covered in the module

Grades for all assignments will be posted seven days after the student turns them in. If the instructor cannot return the assignment within this time frame, the instructor will notify the student as to when the assignment will be graded. [\[Top\]](#)

Assessment

See schedule for dates. The week begins on Monday and ends on Sunday. All discussions (due Wednesday), quizzes, or assignments (due Sunday) need to be completed by the end of each week.

The accepted format for all assignments is MS Word files. If there is a malfunction with the class site or computer malfunctions occur, assignments may be emailed or sent via fax. It is the obligation of the student to inform me of such malfunctions immediately. For resolving technical issues, please visit the helpdesk website (<https://helpdesk.ufl.edu/>) or call 352-392-4357.

All grades are based on the number of points earned out of total number of points* 100 to calculate a percentage.

TOTAL POSSIBLE POINTS & GRADES = 440 points

Points earned/440 pts*100 to calculate a percent

Academic Honesty

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Conduct Code specifies several behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor in this class.

<https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/process/student-conduct-code/>

It is assumed that you will complete all work independently in each course unless the instructor provides explicit permission for you to collaborate on course tasks (e.g., assignments, papers, quizzes, exams). Furthermore, as part of your obligation to uphold the Honor Code, you should report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. It is your individual responsibility to know and comply with all university policies and procedures regarding academic integrity and the Student Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code at the University of Florida will not be tolerated. Violations will be reported to the Dean of Students Office for consideration of disciplinary action. For more information regarding the Student Honor Code, please see: <http://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/process/studnet-conduct-code/>.

In-Class Recording (This is an online course with pre-recorded lectures. However, here is the UF policy on recording class lectures)

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third-party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student

Software Use

All faculty, staff and students at the university are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against university policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate.
